EXPERIENCE THE LOIRE VALLEY !

The countryside is popular and the Loire Valley is the ideal region for rediscovering the joys of the great outdoors, with walks, picturesque villages and traditional markets offering a wide range of opportunities to experience the French art of living so particular to this area. More than 20 years after the Loire Valley was first listed as a UNESCO World Heritage site, the values that shape life in the region are anchored more than ever in a sustainable approach : preserving the nature and heritage (Loire châteaux) that give area its unique character and international renown.

An “eco-tourism” visit to the Loire Valley is an opportunity to slow down, take time to meet people and share experiences with others. Many outdoor activities such as canoeing, outings in traditional or electric boats, segway rides through vineyards, walking and, of course, cycling allow visitors to discover the Loire Valley and its tributaries. To stimulate the senses, a walk in the garden is a must ! The Loire Valley is home to several gardens that are part of its Renaissance heritage. These unique, peaceful places offer the opportunity to discover botany and gardening know-how or even get hands-on with cooking classes, wild plant picking, cosmetics making, etc.

5,000 km of cycle routes and loops make the Loire Valley the perfect cycling destination. Verdant countryside, small towns and charming villages punctuate the itineraries. For a first cycling holiday, the Loire à Vélo, the star of all cycle routes, offers a 900-km itinerary along the Loire and past vineyards and châteaux for the enjoyment of all. New this year, the Loire à Vélo Passport is a real must-have to keep a record of each stage completed ! The Véloscénie, the Indre à Vélo, the Saint-Jacques à Vélo, the Scandibérique, the Cœur de France à Vélo and the new Saint-Jacques à Vélo (via Vézelay) offer plenty of alternative routes for cycling fans.

Any first experience of the famous French art of living here will inevitably include cellar visits and tastings of Loire Valley wines. There is something to satisfy all desires, from troglodyte caves to chateau cellars, from picnics in the vineyards with local produce to cooking classes and Villa Monin - a genuine temple to the famous syrups of the same name !

To unwind in the countryside, a large selection of new four- and five-star hotels and campsites offering everything from simple tents to glamping and more unusual accommodation have recently been added to the existing offer.

600TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BIRTH OF LOUIS XI

This year, the Loire Valley is celebrating the 600th anniversary of the birth of King Louis XI, also known as “the Universal Spider”. For the occasion, the Royal Château of Amboise is unveiling its exhibition titled “Louis XI, the Order of Saint Michael and the Rise of Royal Power”, which highlights the political power of the king. Further south, in Touraine, the Château of Langeais - which was saved and rebuilt under the orders of Louis XI - is paying tribute to the monarch with the exhibition titled “Château of Louis XI, the Builder King”. In the Royal City of Loches, one of the best-preserved keeps in Europe and a state prison under Louis XI is hosting a scenographic visit presenting the younger years of the Dauphin Louis, future Louis XI, through his education, role and influence in the French Court. The full programme will be available on the following website: www.valdeloire-france.com

THE ART OF BEING CURIOUS

In the mid-18th century, the Château of Chenonceau received the Enlightenment philosopher Jean-Jacques Rousseau. Then aged 35, he was engaged as a tutor in the service of the Dupin family. Rousseau and Dupin de Francueil studied astronomy, mechanics and optics. In 2023, the Ladies’ Château is shining the spotlight on its Cabinet of Scientific Curiosities and opening it to the public. www.chenonceau.com

MONA LISA, THE SECRET STORY OF 1939-1945

In late August 1939, the Louvre’s masterpieces were taken down, carefully wrapped and packed in crates to protect them and evacuate them out of the capital. Over 2,000 crates of works, including the famous Mona Lisa, were sent to the National Domain of Chambord, the “house” of King Francis I. Today, four rooms retrace the story of the Château of Chambord’s commitment to protecting French art during the Second World War. New in 2023 : the children’s area in the Francis I tower comprising a mediation space with three rooms specially designed for young visitors. Children can learn more about the king and the history and architecture of the château. www.chambord.org

“ENCHANTING THE EARTH”, THE NEW EXHIBITION AT THE CHATEAU OF LE RIVAU

Part of Les Nouvelles Renaissance, this exhibition presents around 40 works and highlights the interactions between famous artists and figures who once lived in the Loire Valley and artists of today who are concerned about protecting our planet. From Max Ernst to Calder, from Joan of Arc to Rabelais, these figures and icons each left their mark on the Loire Valley and the new exhibition illustrates contemporary artists’ fascination with them. www.chateaudurivau.com

LEONARDO DA VINCI AND ANATOMY, THE MECHANICS OF LIFE

A painter, writer, humanist philosopher, sculptor and military engineer, Leonardo da Vinci is universally recognised as THE Italian genius. He sought to unlock the secrets of humanity and human anatomy and was one of the first to use dissection to reproduce human anatomy in the finest detail in his sketches. In 2023, the Château of Le Clos-Lucé, Leonardo da Vinci's last home, is exhibiting his work, sometimes recreated as moving 3D models, sometimes in the form of objects he used such as anatomical wax models and facsimiles of 15th- and 16th-century dissection instruments.
